

TGS HAPPY HOUR

featuring RANCH WATER

With roots in far West Texas, Ranch Water is a no-frills drink that can be adjusted to your preferences. Simply combine tequila (about one shot, or 1.5 oz) with the juice of half of a lime, and top it off with Topo Chico or another carbonated water. Add a salt rim if you'd like, or make it sweet with agave syrup or orange liqueur!

DID YOU KNOW?

- Ranch water is rumored to have origins at the Gage Hotel in Marathon, but it is also claimed by a restaurateur in Austin, and many West Texans.
- If you don't feel like gathering ingredients, you can buy canned Ranch Water at a store near you - some brands are Lone River, Ranch Rider, and Shot Gun.
